

Always freezing when your best friend's boiling?

The temperature one person is comfortable at may differ widely from another, but it is also affected by the climate and environment you are used to. By taking part in this survey, you will help us to get a clearer picture of how much the local environment can affect our perception of warmth, what clothes we wear, and how sensitive we might be to climate change. Make sure you've been outside for at least 15 minutes.
